Thank you for your interest regarding the environmental strategies of Avocent Corporation.

Avocent recognizes that operating in a manner compatible with the environment benefits our communities, our employees, our customers, and our business. We worked with our partners and suppliers to develop processes and now build products which minimize the environmental impact of our design, manufacturing, and operating practices.

Additionally, Avocent and our suppliers are developing a plan that complies with national and other applicable laws and regulations governing protection of the environment, worker health and safety, and employment practice wherever we do business. Avocent also is developing a plan to establish a management system (policies, plans and performance measures) designed to implement these requirements and ensure ongoing compliance with them.

Regards,
